

Agreement on the granting of exploitation rights

Author

Title of the article

1. For the publication of the foregoing article and abstract in the journal Studien zur Altägyptischen Kultur I hereby grant the Publishing House the right to reproduce and distribute the article throughout the universe in perpetuity as well as the right of incorporeal transmission and reproduction of the article for print and data carrier editions (e.g. CD-ROM) within the scope of the journal. I also grant the Publisher the right for online utilisation in and from storage media, especially in databases (including electronic storage and making it available for individual use, screen display and printing, also via Internet). This includes associated illustration templates, plans, maps, sketches and tables. The Publisher is obliged to publish the article within a reasonable period of time. Immediately after the publication I receive 20 free offprints of my article.
2. Furthermore, I hereby grant the Publishing House throughout the universe in perpetuity the right for reprints, abstracts (including foreign-language versions and preliminary printings), special expenses within the scope of the journal, and photomechanical duplications, including faxes, microfiche and microform editions.
3. As to the rights conceded under paragraph 1 and 2, the Publishing House is entitled to conclude utilisation contracts with third parties. If one of these rights may be exercised by a collecting society, I hereby authorize the Publisher to enter into corresponding contracts with the relevant collecting society.
4. The rights conceded under paragraph 1 and 2 are given as exclusive rights for a period of one year from the date of publication, after that as simple rights. In the case of a preliminary release for larger contexts, this period may be shorter, according to individual agreement. After the expiration of one year I may grant simple rights of use for the article to others, making sure contractually that the first publication in Studien zur Altägyptischen Kultur is given as source.
5. I assure that I do have the copyright for my article according to paragraph 1 and 2, including associated illustration templates, plans, maps, sketches and tables. Third party rights are not violated by the article.
